FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Friends,

When I talk about the animals we've saved and the violence we've prevented, you are a big part of that we.

You chose to support your local spcaLA – knowing that there is no national spca or humane society. You chose to help those most easily exploited and abused. You chose to be the voice for the voiceless.

YOU GOT JUSTICE FOR THELMA AND LOUISE.

And so, when we present all that we've accomplished this past year, I chose to title it "Here's what YOU accomplished."

You got justice for Thelma and Louise.

Seized in an animal cruelty case along with five other dogs, the sweet sisters were dangerously underweight, barely possessing the strength to stand. Malnutrition stunted their growth, making them look more like puppies than adults.

You gave them a safe place to stay. You fed them good, nourishing food. You treated their wounds – mental and physical. You helped them inspire kids during summer camp. You found them loving new homes.

You got their abuser - the person who starved and neglected these precious dogs - convicted of animal cruelty.

Without you, there is no we.

With gratitude,

Madeline Bernstein
President, spcaLA

P.S. At your holiday gathering this year, please consider taking up a collection – food, toys, or funds – for the thousands of spcaLA shelter pets that will count on us all in the coming year. Questions? Call us at (323) 730-5300, ext 233.
